

Have you ever walked beside the ocean and felt a need to be part of the waves, the sea air; to be part of their essence?

Step out of your vehicle and into a place with coastal beauty so dramatic, it quiets the mind and stirs the heart. Here, nature takes center stage and the rigors of everyday life are washed away. With romantic architecture, pristine views of the Pacific Ocean and nestled against the lush Coast Mountains, Arch Cape Inn will carry you away from the trials of everyday life.

Our North Pacific Coast offers outdoor activities for romantic adventurers to explore and discover all its natural wonders. Long walks on the beach delight beach-combers as they skirt the waves, while tide pools await their discovery. The town of Cannon Beach is just minutes away with many world class restaurants and galleries.

Location

Arch Cape is a whistle stop. It is 3-4 miles south of Cannon Beach, and 7 miles north of Manzanita. We are about 200 miles from Seattle and 100 miles from Portland

Online Maps

Some of the online map sites have inputted us incorrectly. We are working on this. Please call or visit our website to get detailed directions.

GPS Locators & Cell Phones are patchy in Arch Cape. This is because of all the 'heads' or volcanic basalt projections that finger into the sea and serve to block transmissions.

Highway Driving

During summer, it stays light until almost 10:00p.m. During winter, it gets dark about 4:30 or 5:00 p.m. This can be useful when planning your trip.

"Incorporating elements from castles and châteaux, it's straight out of a fairy tale. European antiques, original art, and an abundance of tapestry-cloth furnishings fill the house. There is the circular Tower Room, with its own soaking tub; the Gauguin, filled with reproductions of paintings by you-know-who; and the Tapestry Room, with a stained-glass ceiling and an ocean view from the soaking tub. Lavish, three-course breakfasts are served in the conservatory. So luxurious is this place that the fact that you aren't right on the beach doesn't even seem to matter."
